PACIFIC BUSINESS COLLEGE

320 Post St., opp. Union Square.

The design of this Institution is to impart such an education as will best prepare students for the practical affairs of life. It provides thorough, systematic and practical courses of instruction, and employs a full corps of competent and faithful teachers. Every available modern improvement has been introduced, and whatever a liberal expenditure of money and well-directed energy could do, has been done to make the school what it should be, and to maintain for it a reputation worthy of its rank.

The Business Course, both theoretical and practical, is as near perfection as it is possible to make it. The system of Actual Business Training employed is unsurpassed, students receiving the same practice in conducting business affairs as though they were in a bona fide bank, office, or counting-house. Practical Penmanship is made the subject of daily drill.

The Academic Course affords an excellent opportunity for persons of any age to obtain thorough instruction in Spelling, Reading, Writing, etc., the Higher Mathematical branches, and the Modern Languages.

The Telegraphic Course is well calculated to make proficient operators. It includes careful instruction in sound and paper operating, setting up of instruments, management of batteries, use of switches and ground wires, etc.

General Information.—Day and Evening Sessions during the entire year. Students can enter at any time. Ladies are admitted to all the departments of the school. Individual instruction is given. Life Scholarships for the complete Business Course are issued at $70.
